A. Circumstances requiring a Teach-out Plan

College of Alameda (CoA) submitted its Institutional Self-Evaluation Report (ISER) to the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) in December 2020 and completed its comprehensive accreditation review process by welcoming the Accreditation Visiting Team virtually during the week of March 1-4, 2021. Upon reviewing the CoA ISER, the Peer Review Team Report, and hearing the testimonies of the College of Alameda President and the Peralta Community College District Interim Chancellor Dr. Jannett Jackson at the June 2021 Commission meeting, the ACCJC decided to extend the College's probation status.

Per the new Commission policy on teach-out plans (34 CFR §602.24 (c)(5), 34 CFR § 600.2, 34 CFR §602.24 (c), 34 CFR §602.23(f) (1) (ii)) adopted in June 2021, a college is required to develop a teach-out plan when the Commission places an institution on probation. College of Alameda's Teach-Out Plan ensures equitable treatment of students in the event of a closure of the College.

B. Student Enrollment in all College Programs

Appendix A lists College of Alameda's current associate degrees, associate degrees for transfer, and certificates, as published in the 2020-2021 Catalog, and includes the student enrollment for the past three years.

C. Colleges with Similar Degrees to College of Alameda

Appendix B lists colleges with similar degrees and certificates where students could reasonably complete their programs of study should the College of Alameda need to close. College of Alameda has identified the Vice President of Instruction as the point of contact at each receiving institution for consistency purposes.

D. Verification of Comparable Programs

Comparable program content, structure, scheduling, accreditation, and stability at the receiving institution was reviewed for all College of Alameda degrees and certificates to ensure students could successfully complete their educational goals. Verification of comparable programs included reviewing college program websites, course offerings, learning outcomes, and the types of degrees and certificates offered. This evidence is provided in Appendix B. The Peralta Community College District Chancellor communicated with the respective chief executive officers of the receiving institutions regarding the purpose of the new requirement for teach-out plans and they were each apprised that their program(s) have been identified as potential matches for CoA students.

E. Student Records Access and Notification to Students

College of Alameda, in collaboration with the Peralta Community College District, will make necessary student records available and will use multiple communication methods to ensure that students will have uninterrupted access to necessary records.

The Peralta Community College District Closure Resource (PCCD-CR) website will be created for College of Alameda and each of the other three colleges in the District. The College and District will make this communication system accessible to students beginning during the last academic year of college operations through the first two years after closure. The website will include a Student Records request link where students can order any of their college records through one portal. The portal will provide clear prompts to guide students through the record request process.

The College and the District will implement multiple communication methods to disseminate information and instructions pertaining to record requests and other relevant closure information. Students will be notified of how to obtain records by various means of communication, including e-mail, text messages, and social media platforms. Post closure, a dedicated district webpage will serve as an ongoing resource for previous students by directing them to a third-party record repository, Parchment, for all future record requests.

F. Personnel and Resources to support Student Program Completion

During the final year of operation, no new students will be admitted to College of Alameda or to any other college in the District. The College and District will hire additional staff as required, dedicated to supporting students with a successful transition from College of Alameda to other institutions. The College and the District will provide appropriate training for staff to support this process. Since the resources available to students will be online, the College of Alameda Welcome Center will have staff available to assist students with navigating the website and the records request portal. Regular hours of operation will include limited evening and Saturday services. College of Alameda will work with partner institutions to ensure clear and easy transition plans for students to assist them with achieving their educational goals.
