Hi Jeremy,

Yes. Please do reach out to the student and also mention EOPS as a potential option for support. If they ask, you can tell them you came across their Facebook post by coincidence.

In unity,

Hello Natalie,

Below are the Facebook posts I was telling you about regarding an unhoused student having difficulties affording/adjusting to being in courses at CoA.

I guess they were not using a pseudonym, because... I was actually able to find them: Night Yokoyama ID# 11047141

Should I reach-out to them and suggest they meet with their counselor to complete a Project Success – Emergency Aid grant?

I started mechanic class today at College of Alameda. I already feel priced out of it. Anyone have any USA made tools in this list? (Items under #3 on the second pic I don't need.)

I found out quickly I need at least a 24/7 office space to do school work at. I live in my car (not by choice) and my neck can't take not having a desk to do my homework (I already have scoliosis and slipped disks). Anyone know of some 24/7 spaces under $500 a month?
