Sociology is the scientific study of everyday life. This approach to academic studies provides students with an analysis of social life, social change, and the social factors and consequences of human behavior using the methods of social science research. Sociologists examine the structure of groups, sub-cultures, organizations, and societies, and how people interact within these contexts. The subject ranges from the families of origin, families of choice, to organized crime, state crime and white collar crime, to religious cults; from the divisions of race, sexuality, gender and social class to the shared beliefs of a common culture; and from the sociology of work to the sociology of populations, health, and the environment..

In order to earn the AA-T in Sociology, students are required to: • Complete 60 semester CSU- transferable units, including the major requirements for this subject. • Complete the California State University-General Education-Breadth pattern (CSU GE-Breadth); or the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) pattern. • Complete a minimum of 18 semester units in the major • Obtain of a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0. • Earn a grade of C or higher in all courses required for the major. Sociology (SOC)

What is Sociology? Sociology is the scientific study of social lives of people, groups, and societies. Sociologists apply the rigors of the scientific method to relevant issues in the social world, from micro interaction like the public order, to macro forces like globalization. A sociological perspective is a remarkable tool that helps people analyze the practical impact and ethical implications of people's choices and decisions in the workplace, family, community, and wider society.

Why study Sociology at College of Alameda? Our lower-division courses introduce students to the most important concepts, methods, and empirical research in sociology. Students learn multiple methods of data collection, professional writing, and presentation skills, which help them succeed academically at four year colleges and universities and also make them marketable in the labor market.
